Roberts Wesleyan College - B. Thomas Golisano Library	Katie Hollowood	This library is the best place to study! They have moving bookcases, I mean that's pretty awesome! They have quiet desk areas, they have quiet reading corners, and they have group study rooms. They also have the best reading room upstairs, there's a fireplace in it and it's just a great place to relax and read a good book! Personally, my favorite part of the library is the library cafe! You can get coffee while studying to keep yourself awake and it's a great place to relax as well as work. I feel like it takes the pressure off the work you're doing so you can do your work without stressing out. They also have a fireplace, which I love!

Having a café area in the library makes it homier for students to conduct group study and project work. Roberts Wesleyan College - B. Thomas Golisano Library	Kimberly A. Prouty	The B. Thomas Golisano Library on Roberts Wesleyan College Campus qualifies as the best library in my book! As a professor here at Roberts, every time I have gone to the library or asked for assistance, I have been provided with more resources or information than I requested (because I was unaware they existed!). The librarians and student workers are kind, helpful, friendly and often go above and beyond to assist in the sometimes daunting task of accessing specific resources. I have never left with a question unanswered - and I even received an e-mail prior to returning to my office when I forgot my i.d. card. Whether it involves making corrections to inaccurate information within the system, identifying where to access journals, requesting on-line resources for classes or instructions for using the computer lab to administer a test on the computers, their customer service and attention to detail are exceptional. I always walk away feeling like my request was the most important item on their agenda when they were in front of me. Respectfully submitted, Kimberly Prouty

And, the stacks are movable!!

B. Thomas Golisano Library

The staff of the Golisano Library are consistently helpful, from those working the front desk to the research librarians. The library staff have helped me with more Inter-Library loans than I can count and through the library I have significant access to print and e-resources. Barry Hamilton, one of the research librarians, regularly meets with faculty to help them connect their syllabi to resources for student research in their courses. The library also has a great physical and architectural atmosphere. It is spacious, with lots of desks and carrels in different configurations, with multiple computer terminals (and printing facilities). There are also lounges and study rooms for small groups, with an adjacent computer lab and a cafe for students who need a caffeine break or a snack. The high ceilings with glass skylights give the entire library an open and airy feel. Through staff, resources, and facilities, the Golisano Library creates an inviting atmosphere that is conducive to study and research.

B. Thomas Golisano Library

It is a wonderful open space that is well resourced, and employs a friendly, informative staff. The library also houses a coffee shop and gathering space that is well used by many of our students. Our library offers many study rooms and quiet nooks for those who need to be undisturbed. And for those who just want to grab a good book and read, they do it near one of our two fireplaces. It is an excellent place for learning and relaxation.
