John G. Roman, Jr. Named CIO of The Bonadio Group

--IT management professional brings three decades of experience to role --

Rochester, N.Y., June 4, 2018—The Bonadio Group named John G. Roman, Jr. CIO of the organization. Roman will be responsible for overseeing all aspects of IT services including management, operations, security and strategic planning.

“We’re looking forward to adding John’s expertise to lead the team in information technology,” said Thomas Bonadio, CEO of The Bonadio Group. “He has a strong history of applying results-oriented skills to multi-site organizations. This is an ideal time for John to join us as we grow in key markets and create a tech roadmap for the future.”

John’s experience includes more than a decade at Nixon Peabody’s Rochester office as well as positions at Brite Computers, NetSetGo, Xerox, Wang Laboratories and Northern Telecom. John is also an adjunct professor at Rochester Institute of Technology and Monroe Community College, sharing his insight and knowledge with area students.

An active member of the community, John serves on the board of directors for Literacy Volunteers of Rochester and the Technology Executive’s Network. He is a past board member of Heritage Christian Services foundation and served in advisory roles for the International Legal Technology Association and Legal Technology News. John has presented to numerous organizations as a guest speaker and contributed to publications including Law Technology News and Business Strategies Magazine. He has also been a contributing writer to corporate blogs.

John holds a Bachelor of Science in Organizational Management from Roberts Wesleyan College and an Associate of Applied Science in Business Management from Rochester Institute of Technology.
