David Dunning

Chili Town Supervisor

“Civil Discourse and Public Service”

Thursday, January 23, 2020

12:15 p.m. Ellen Stowe Room in Garlock

David Dunning is the Chili Town Supervisor, set to become the longest sitting Town Supervisor in Chili history. Having no previous political experience or aspirations, in 2006 he joined several residents opposing what he believed to be inappropriate development in a residential neighborhood. Over the next two years, he attended nearly every Town Board, Planning Board, and Zoning Board meeting and learned more about development and town government than he ever imagined. During his tenure, Roberts Wesleyan College has expanded, adding the Crothers building, Golisano Library, and beginning a new community engagement center. This January, Dunning started serving his seventh term.
